Challenges:

- Outdated platform lacking modern technologies and marketer tools
- In need of a scalable and robust platform to support increased website traffic and ExhibitTrader.com's inventory and services
- Managing content, exhibiting inventory, posting blogs, and more
- Leveraging a tightly integrated marketing platform to engage more meaningfully with website visitors

KMS Impacts:

 Designed an ideal platform with a responsive web design using a leading front end Javascript framework on top of Ruby on Rails, using Heroku as the host service
 Integrated new website with Salesforce.com to make inventory listings and website activity manageable
 Implemented Contentful to manage content for pages and blog posts
 Added a leading Marketing Automation platform to create marketing journeys based on website activity implemented

Our website and back office systems were incredibly outdated before KMS came along. Thanks to their dedicated team, we can engage with our website visitors more effectively and stay connected with them long after they leave our website.
